Doug Davidson Joins GBQ as Director, Business Technology Services

Columbus, OH, January 6, 2017: GBQ is pleased to announce that Doug Davidson, CISA, has joined the firm as a Director in our Business Technology Group. He is based in GBQ's Columbus office.

Doug joins the firm with a strong background in information security and risk management. He has over 30 years of experience working with technology in small and midmarket companies. Prior to joining GBQ, Doug was President and CEO of Jacadis, a Columbus-based information security and information risk management firm. Previously, he was Practice Leader for web technologies at SARCOM and FrontWay.

On the business side of the information risk management, security and compliance equation, Doug's experience complements GBQ's existing assurance and advisory and infrastructure and architecture service offerings. His experience also expands the capabilities of our IT and Risk Services practice across the firm.

"GBQ is committed to having local resources to assist all of our clients. Doug brings depth, knowledge and years of experience in cybersecurity to our team. He is well-versed in security management, incident response, vulnerability management, security awareness and penetration testing, rounding out our IT service capabilities," said Tom Powers, Director of Assurance Services.

Doug works with business leaders and executives to assess and improve the operationalization of information risk and information security programs. Doug also advises information security and compliance leadership in larger enterprises focusing on control assessment and improvement in areas such as security leadership, policy and procedure, security awareness, third party risk management and compliance with HIPAA, PCI and ISO 27001.

He is a past board member of the Hilliard Chamber of Commerce, former Program Chairman for the local Columbus ISACA Chapter. Doug is a graduate of Miami University.

"We are excited to have a professional with Doug's depth and breadth of expertise join our growing Business Technology practice. His addition aligns with our long-term growth strategy of being responsive to the issues that are high priorities for our clients," said Darci Congrove, Managing Director.
