Davidson Promoted to Department Head-Information Technology Services

Columbus, OH, June 27, 2018: GBQ is pleased to announce that Doug Davidson, CISA, has been promoted to Department Head-Information Technology Services. Doug is based in our Columbus, OH office.

Doug joined GBQ in 2017 with a strong background in information security and risk management and over 30 years of experience working with technology in small and midmarket companies. Prior to joining GBQ, Doug was President and CEO of Jacadis, a Columbus-based cyber security and information risk management firm. Previously, he was Practice Leader for web technologies at SARCOM and FrontWay. On the business side of the information risk management, security and compliance equation, Doug's experience complements GBQ's existing assurance and advisory and infrastructure and architecture service offerings. His experience also expands the capabilities of our IT and Risk Services practice across the firm.

"It has been an exciting first year since Doug and his team joined GBQ. Unfortunately, the information security risks are real and growing every day. Doug and our IT team have made impactful differences in working with entities to grow and protect their information and communication systems from the cyber threats we face in today's environment. We are fortunate to have Doug on the GBQ team to lead our IT services practice group into the future and help us all mitigate or prevent these threats and give our clients the peace of mind to continue innovating with technology in their businesses," said Tom Powers, Director of Assurance Services.

Doug is a past board member of the Hilliard Chamber of Commerce and former Program Chairman for the local Columbus ISACA Chapter.
