Upon graduating from The Ohio State University, Beth joined GBQ in 2010 to begin her career in the Tax department. She attained knowledge and experience working on tax compliance engagements and developing client relationships while expanding her understanding of both GBQ and the public accounting industry, which she continues to be passionate about to this day.

In 2016, Beth transitioned her career and joined GBQ's Human Resources team. She has since focused her efforts on learning and development, continuing professional education, performance management, and recruiting.

Beth is a two-time recipient GBQ's Ron Quillin Learning Award, recognizing her dedication to lifelong learning and her service as a mentor and teacher to others within the firm. She is involved in the community through her service as the VP of Finance for the Central Ohio Association for Talent Development, a professional association of individuals dedicated to workplace learning and performance.
