Anthony joined GBQ in 2020 with nearly 10 years of tax experience, including five years at a Big Four firm, serving primarily real estate and construction niches. His previous roles provided him with the opportunity to oversee the planning, compliance and consulting for privately owned companies concentrating in pass-throughs, as well as the owners and a number of high net worth individuals.

At GBQ, Anthony will continue using his construction and real estate expertise while providing federal, state, and local tax services to privately owned companies and their owners. Additionally, he will assist in recruiting, training, and development efforts of staff within the tax department.
